March there would not be one bushel of corn left in the South. How are we, then, I ask, in the face of these glaring facts, to make a crop, to cultivate the usual amount of land to the mule, with nothing but grass, and questionable grass at that, to feed on? Let the seasons be what they may, another failure in some development of the mule, with nothing but grass, and questionable grass at that, to feed on? Let the seasons be what they may, another failure in some development of the mule, with nothing but grass. DETROIT SAFE CO. Sure Protection from Fire-Safety,

Utility and Beauty Combined. THE DOOR-FRAME AND JAMES OF THI Safe are made of MALLEABLE ROLLE STEEL, with six flanges or rebates, on which the company holds a patent, the advantages of which company holds a patent, the advantages of which are these;
It is much thinner and stronger in proportion to thickness than cast-tron, and consequently its power to conduct heat through the joint between door and jambs is much less than in cast iron, and will not crack.

A much closer joint can be obtained through the whole succession of its flanges than can be obtained with exertiry.

A flucture state of its flanges than can be alread with east-fron.

The Boit-work is all placed in the inner flanges, the filling between walls is six mehes thick, which no amount of heat can exhaust.

The corners of the Safe are rounded and mad-solid by fight. Flats, thereby affording greats strength to resist the concussion which a heav fall or failing timbers might give it.

Advice From a Practical Man to Those Who, Like Him, Have Suffered.

FRIARS POINT, MISS., September 14, 1881. o the Editors of the Memphis Appeal: After about six weeks travel through M After about six weeks travel through Mis-sissippi, West Tennessee and North Ala-bama, I feel moved to drop a few hints of in-terest which I conceive to be of essential im-portance to the people of our country. In all my rounds I have seen one fodder stack, carried down the river two miles below the all my rounds I have seen one fodder stack, oot of the Island. He was rescued in an exhay. I saw thousands of acres of corn lit-erally scorched to death, and a total failure, wherein thousands and thousands and thou-sands of shocks of good stock food might have been cut and saved. It seems almost impossible to prevail upon the people, even now, to awake to a realization of the hard, now, to awake to a realization of the hard, grim frown of starvation that has fallen upon our broad land. Our people should look around them, and know their real condition, for it is one of fast approaching peril and want; and let them bestir themselves to prompt and well-directed action. So dark a cloud never hung over our land. Last year, the the South thought she had a good concloud never hung over our land. Last year, when the South thought she had a good corn crop, there were 8,000,000 bushes shipped to her to supply her real demands, and brought, too, from those localities which this year sadly share the terror of the dread crisis. Will the people consider these facts, and earnestly inquire what they should do? My humble opinion is if the present crop of corn were divided among our farmers, and the stock cared for as it should be, by the 1st of March, there would not be one bushel of

The colored people of Memphis who were driven to the greatest extremities of want and suffering during the great epidemics of 1878 and 1879 have ever cherished a gratefoll recollection of the liberal aid they received from abroad. They desire now to repay that debt in part by contributing of their means for the relief of the Michigan suffer.
